ON LOCATION

Hello from Pilba (near Woomera),

I've wanted to write before now, but have been constrained by either time, energy, power, or failing equipment. I've been able to figure out a temporary work around. I just hope the Hotel Royal starts in the morning after running the laptop off the main battery.

In short, I have travelled the West Macdonnall Ranges, Uluru, and the Olgas. I also began to travel the Oodnadatta track before abandoning the idea shortly after leaving Oodnadatta (202km down the track), and headed back toward Cooper Pedy and the comforts of a sealed highway. I decided the risks were to great (and after all I've done on this trip! Details later).

I have written in brief, but intend to write more extensively during my stay in Adelaide after a few days at the Flinders Ranges.
